

2012 VINTAGE YACHTING GAMES

SUMMARY

VINTAGE INTERPARES RACE

By crossing an Italian colored ribbon Yevgen BRASLAVETZ, the responsible person of the victorious Ukrainian Dragon Bunker Prince, won the Vintage InterPares race 2012. In this race all winners of the Vintage Yachting Games meet each other in a battle between the classes. This race is held in the 12' Dinghy, an Olympic class in 1920 and 1928. This class is still very active in 10 countries including The Netherlands, Italy and Japan. For privacy reasons the rest of the finishing order will remain a secret. We like to congratulate the International Dragon Class for being "THE" Vintage Yachting Class for the next four years.

This year's Vintage showed 113 boats and 225 participants. With an increase of 140% in relation to the 2008 edition the idea of the Vintage Yachting Games looks to have landed.

THE OPENING CEREMONY

Due to the fact of three locations: Bellano, Dervio and Santa Cecilia, it was not possible to have the original planned fleet review. As alternative a fanfare followed by a long parade of sailors and organizers walked from the Dervio city hall to the Vintage meeting point near the waterfront. There the opening ceremony of the 2012 Vintage Yachting Games took place. Besides the Italian National Anthem two choirs of Italian Opera singers sung Va Pensiero from Verdi during the flag hoisting procedure. Furthermore there were short speeches from The Vintage Yachting Games Organization, the representatives of Bellano and Dervio, the organizing clubs and the Italian Sailing Federation. Finally Alberto Barengi, president of the International Flying Dutchman Organization and chairman of the Vintage Yachting Games supervisory board declared the games opened.

THE WEATHER

The wonderful scenery of Lake Como has a normal weather pattern of a thermal breeze from the south starting at 13:00 hours. Like always the normal conditions were not present during a major championship. This was due to very bad weather North of the Alpes and in Switzerland. As result the wind speed did not reach the normal level of 10 to 14 knots and alternative starting times were used. Also the spare day was utilized. At Campo Alpha and Bravo only 5 races could be completed. On Campo Charlie a sixth race was completed. On Wednesday a storm of 40 knots hits the lake. The organizers reacted prompt and cleared the lake in time. The Italian temperature was not absent. So besides some rainy periods sailing on the lake was very pleasant.

THE ORGANIZATION

The races at all Campo's were well organized and managed. Also the opening ceremony and the craning of the keelboats went well. Other parts showed signs of what was locally called "Italian style" of management. The mooring of the Tempest was simply bad organized and boats had to place on shore after each day. Also the taxi rides from Bellano to the Soling markers and back as well as the daily prize giving's could be organized much better. The final prize giving ceremony started well but had a chaotic ending. These are all points that will be evaluated with the organizing committee and with the International Class Organizations.

However, at our next Vintage location we do not expect the infrastructure to be a bottleneck since everything there is built around craning, mooring and launching of boats and parking of cars.

On Friday there was a meeting with all International Class representatives. Here the positive and negative facts of this edition were on the table. At the end the general feeling of the classes was to continue the support to the Vintage Yachting Games as a joint venture.

THE MEDALS

This year's medals were made of glass with internal inscription. They were handed out to all 1st, 2nd and 3rd prize winners.

THE PERPETUAL TROPHIES

In 2008 the perpetual trophies were sponsored by Sotheby's. They were designed and created by Jacob J. Roosjen former silversmith and Dutch dragon sailor. For 2012 Jacob made also similar prizes for the new classes.

On the reverse all Olympic medalists of a class are engraved (the classes past). In the obverse is the Vintage logo.

The winners of this trophy are engraved on the foot of the trophy (the classes' future!).

THE COUNTRY TROPHY

In this Vintage the country trophy, donated in 2008 by Menno Meyer, goldsmith, former International sailor, Jury and Umpire, was won by Germany. This victory is impressive however, they had won only in one class, but their overall performance beat every other country.

THE POUL RICHARD HØJ JENSEN TROPHY IN THE DRAGON

This perpetual trophy is presented to the winner of the Dragon class to symbolize the connection between Poul and the Olympic ideas behind the Vintage.

THE MARINE YACHTING TROPHY

This trophy is presented by Marine Yachting on a perpetual basis to the winner of the Vintage InterPares race.

DRIVE AND RACE TROPHY

Donated by the owner of Dervio's Surfshop. Upali who travelled his whole life light with his surf board in the airplane was impressed how sailors suffer by driving many kilometers to and from the regatta's. The price went to the Flying Dutchman team RUS 9 of: Sergey Kruchkov and Andrey Silzinev who traveled a total of 9000 kilometers to participate at Vintage Yachting Games.

CAMPO BRAVO

At Campo Bravo only five races could be completed for both classes.

In the Europe class, Olympic from 1992 – 2004, the female and male event started as one fleet in this Vintage. Of course they had separate results.

By the female participants, Janika PULS, Germany, got a lead of 8 points over her opponent Anne-Line LYBGSØ THOMSEN from Denmark. Anna LIVBJERG also from Denmark took bronze.

In the O-Jolle, Olympic in 1936, the Dutch sailors took the first three places. Ton OP DE WEEGH once again was victorious at Lake Como. He became European Champion here two years ago and showed once again that this is his lake! Silver was for Martin BAAS and the bronze for Thies BOSCH in his new boat. Thies might have won if he had not chosen for a different brand of hicking straps.

CAMPO CHARLIE

On Campo Charlie six out of the planned nine races were completed in all three classes.

The Flying Dutchman class (Olympic between 1960 – 1992) was dominated by the Austrian families: AICHHOLZER and ZINGERLE. Their two teams took gold and silver. The third place was for Ginés ROMERO BERNABEU and Iváro MORENO EGEA who were beating the Bonaire delegation of Henry KONING and Rob TAAL with a minor 0.6 points. Dressed in traditional Tiroler lederhosen Christoph AICHHOLZER started in the Vintage InterPares race. After an early start he was given a stop and go penalty by the jury. His final result in this race will remain classified.

In the Tempest class (Olympic between 1972 – 1976) the battle went between team of Cornelia CHRISTEN, Ruedi CHRISTEN from Switzerland and the team of president of the German Sailing Federation: Rolf BÄHR, Christian SPRANGER. In the last two races the Swiss team showed their light air competencies and won both races. The Italian host team of Alessandro CASTELLI, Paolo BRAMBILLA came in fourth after Klaus WENDE, Max REICHERT who took the bronze. The Tempest, known by the older sailors as a class for heavy weights, give a wonderful display of mixed team sailing.

CAMPO ALPHA

On Campo Alpha the Dragons and 5.5 Metre class had their races. Only five could be completed. Since the 5.5 Metre class had brought in their classic racers a lot of very elegant boats were active on this Campo. The first days this was the course area with most wind.

The Dragon class (Olympic between 1948 – 1972) had her first competitor from Africa ever. The South African (RSA) team did reasonably good with an eight place overall.

The Dutch team of Reinier WISSENRAET, Pim TEN HARMSSEN VAN DER BEEK, Marc REIJNHOUDT also the defending champion came in on second place. Bronze was taken by Vasily SENATOROV, Igor IVASHINTSOV, Alex MUZICHENKO from Russia. But the gold was for the Ukrainian team of Yevgen BRASLAVETZ, Georgii LEONCHUK, Sergey TIMOKHOV.

The fleet of the 5.5 Metre (Olympic between 1952 – 1968) was very impressive. With 14 boats racing it was not the largest fleet but the size of the boats and the sail area made the class very present at Lake Como. Since all 5.5's are build from a different design, the speed of each boat can differ as well. But the racing remained close and competitive. The class had chosen to bring the classic designs to the Vintage. This means boats designed in their Olympic period from 1952 to 1968. The choice of design period for the next Vintage is still open.

The races went between William BOREL, Yves DUCLOS-GRENET, Adrien BAUMELLE, from France, Anders NORDMAN, Robert SEGERCRANTZ, Johan HJELT, from Finland and the team of Olympian Hubert REICH, Dr. Wolfgang OEHLER, Christian HEMMERICH, from Germany sailing in their Olympic boat from 1964. In the end the Finnish team took the gold followed by the German team of "Biwi" Reich.

THE CLOSING CEREMONY

The closing ceremony started with the Vintage InterPares race in the 12' Dinghies. This was followed by the prize giving with the team of father and daughter Maccari as presentation duo.

Before the closing of the event by Vintage chairman, the Vintage flag was received from Pietro Adamoli and Carlo Bossi, representing the Multilaro organization. The flag was subsequently handed over to John Best representing Great Britain as the next host country.

During the closing of the event Rudy den Outer handed over stainless remembrance plates with the Vintage logo to the cities of Bellano and Dervio. He also announced that "Portland and Weymouth", host of this year's Olympic sailing regatta will be the host of the 2016 Vintage Yachting Games.
